

Welcome

President John Loftis welcomed the members and their guests to the annual July potluck. He said there would be no Shop Questions or program due to the potluck.

The invocation was delivered by member Lynn Floyd.

New members

Jerry Henson of Dallas was introduced to NTWA by member Greg Merrill.

Announcements

Chris Hathaway has equipment for sale. He brought in pictures and a flyer for those interested.

John Loftis said there are three estate sales coming up and to watch for announcements.

Dan Chenault announced that Rockler is opening new stores in Frisco and Garland. Watch for the grand openings around September 1st.

Dan also has a Grizzly DC1200, 220V dust collector for sale.

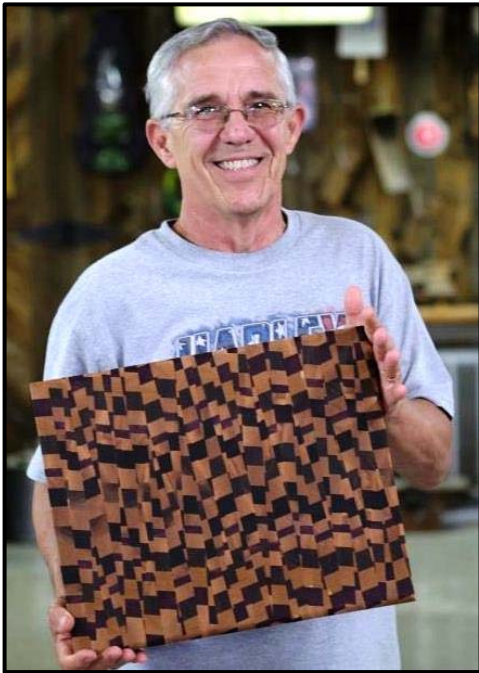

Show & Tell

Jeff Whitcomb donated this "Don't Tread On Me" plaque to the evening's raffle.

Jeff showed off this slab of mesquite treated with 12 coats of Deft.

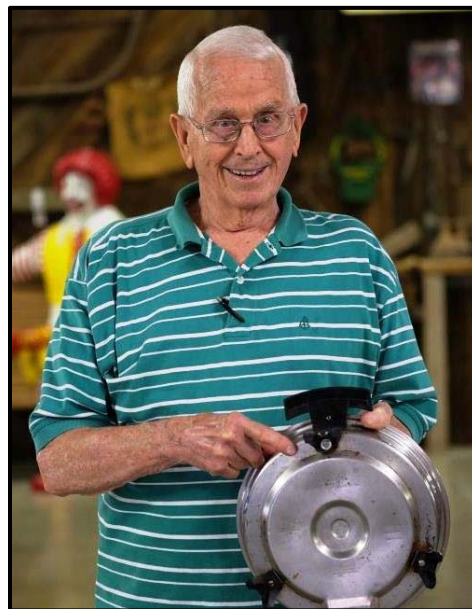

Richard Kenyon was inspired by President John Loftis' program on making a mosaic cutting board at the April 2016 meeting.

Ron Giordano made this box out of maple and walnut. The top panel was resawn and also used for the bottom panel. Ron used splined miters for the top frame.

Richard made a series of boxes within boxes and even one with a ball on within the center box.

Paul Giger took advantage of his woodworking skills to make a wooden replacement leg for this electric skillet.

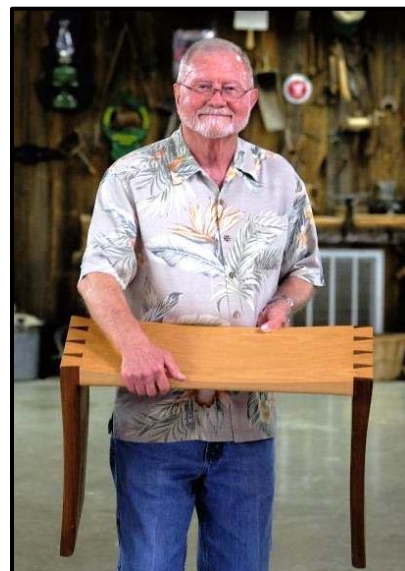

Dave Cassman modified a sharpening station plan in Fine Woodworking to keep all his sharpening supplies in one convenient place.

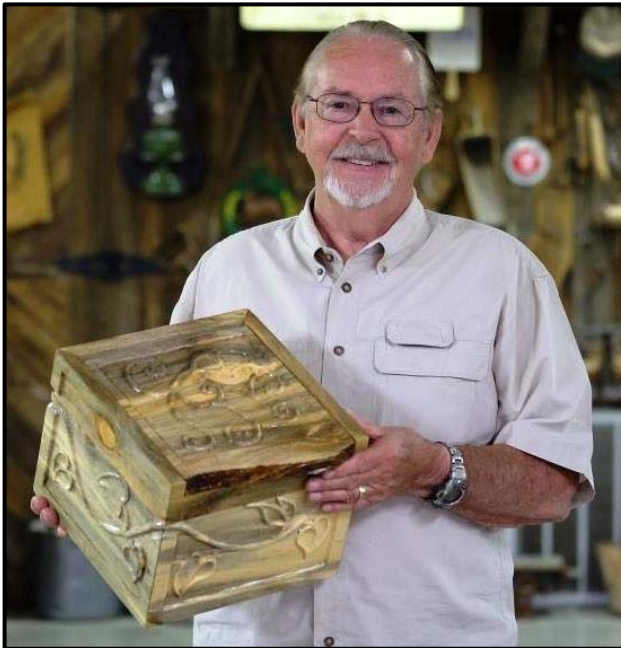

TJ, Teresa Jones, made this Greene & Greene style cradle for her niece using air-dried walnut. After letting the Danish Oil finish dry for 4 weeks, she rubbed it out using steel wool and Renaissance wax.

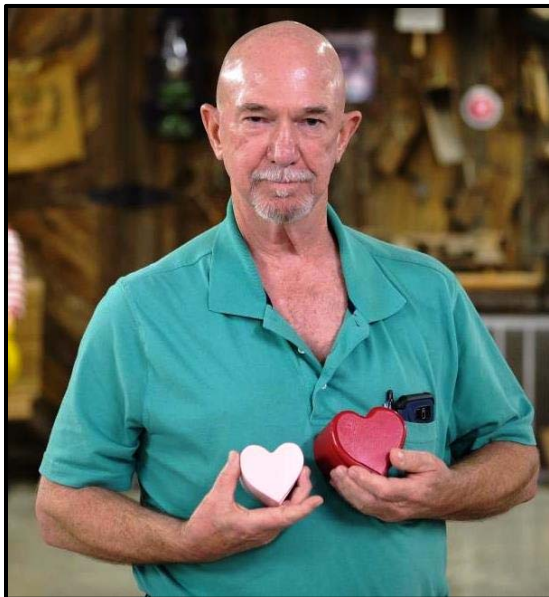

James Dairy (sp?) is a 12-year-old Boy Scout who created a project to turn pens and sell them to pay for his summer camp. Way to go James!

Sidney Futrell made this David Marks bench to go with a David Marks side table he previously made. Notice the beautiful hand cut dovetail joints!

Fred Sawtelle made this hand-carved "bone box" for deceased dogs. He used lodgepole pine cut on his son's property in Colorado.

Dale Smith made these heart-in-a-heart bandsawn boxes. Once he got started, he had a hard time stopping at just one inside box.

There were two $10 drawing winners for Show & Tell: Richard Kenyon and Dale Smith.

Raffle

There were two raffles at the July Potluck. First was the normal monthly drawing followed by the grand prize drawing. All tickets sold after the December potluck were used for the grand drawing, a $500 Lee Valley gift certificate.

Monthly Raffle winners:

Chris Hathaway: 1 HP Bosch palm router

Jeff Whitcomb: Rockler finishing supplies

Kirk Templeton: 2 hand-made race car toys donated by Dan Pugliese.

James Root: Don't Tread On Me plaque donated by Jeff Whitcomb.

And the winner of the $500 Lee Valley gift certificate was Dan Nilius.

Program

There was no program at this evening of fun and great food shared with all our guests. Just these great pictures.
